

Milligan & Company Hires Four New Employees In Philadelphia Headquarters

Philadelphia, PA, July 7, 2010 -- Milligan & Company, one of the largest minority-owned accounting and consulting firms in the U.S., has hired four new employees. Tracy Tackett, Scott Schilt, Angela Wang and Marisil Polakis have joined the firm's Philadelphia, PA headquarters.

Tracy Tackett and Scott Schilt have joined Milligan's Planning and Economic Development Practice. Both are members of the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP). Their responsibilities include supporting the firm's work on evaluating, monitoring and ensuring grant compliance on government-funded economic development projects throughout the state of Pennsylvania.

"Tracy and Scott's backgrounds add the extremely valuable discipline of planning to our firm's primary audit and compliance functions," said Denise Bailey, Partner-in-Charge of Milligan's Government Consulting Group. "Their expertise will enable us to expand our offerings to include planning for municipalities and private organizations, as well as strengthen our core capabilities."

Prior to joining Milligan, Tackett served as a senior planner for a Philadelphia-based urban planning and development company. She is a graduate of Western Washington University and received a Master's in Urban Planning from the University of Kansas. Prior to his role at Milligan, Schilt served in numerous project management roles for urban and municipal planning firms nationwide. He is a graduate of the University of Colorado.

Also joining Milligan & Company are Angela Wang, CPA and Marisil Polakis, CPA. In her new role, Wang is responsible for developing audit approaches, managing budgets and maintaining client relationships. She is also responsible for coaching fellow team members on audit procedures and documentations. Prior to joining Milligan, Wang was with Ernst & Young. She is a graduate of the University of International Business and Economics and Oxford Brooks University, both in Beijing China, and received a Master's of Accounting from the University of Virginia.

Marisil Polakis joined Milligan & Company as a tax accountant, providing tax preparation and advisory services to the firm's corporate, non-profit and individual client base. She is a graduate of Ateneo de Davao University and received an MBA from Ateneo de Manila University, both in the Philippines.
